Location

The City of Worcester is some 30 miles south west of Birmingham and has a resident population of 102,790 (ONS). The City has good communications being situated on the M5 motorway between Junction 6 and 7, and on the National Rail Network with Worcester Shrub Hill Station in the City centre. The subject property fronts Henwick Road close to the junction with St John (A44), one of the primary routes into the City Centre from the west.

The County Cricket Ground and River Sever are 500 m to the east with Worcester Bridge giving direct access into the City centre opposite.

The immediate surroundings comprise the St John's neighbourhood with a variety of local businesses, together with St John's Church, library, bank, post office, pharmacy and major supermarket, all in close proximity.
