Description

The site comprises three buildings, with the main building being a workshop featuring a steel mezzanine. It is of dated construction, with a concrete frame, blockwork and corrugated cladding and roofing. The other two buildings are self contained, disused and in a dilapidated state, both being brick built with flat roofs. The site also includes a large surrounding yard/parking area.

Location

Located in Bletchley, the site is accessed off Victoria Road and is well connected to the local road network, with the A5 approximately 1.2 miles away, providing access to Milton Keynes Centre (5 miles) and the M1 at Junction 14 (5.8 miles). The site is 1 mile from Bletchley Station, which offers direct services to London Euston in under 40 minutes. The area is occupied by a range of local businesses, including nearby industrial and retail units along Victoria Road and surrounding streets.
